ENTERS WARD AND CENTRAL SCHOOLS

NOTHING OF LARGE VALUE TAKEN BY VANDALS.

ENTERTAINMENT CASH IN WESTBROOK'S SAFE

Every Desk Was Ransacked, Several Locks Broken and Small Sums Taken.

The Central building and two of the ward schools, Jefferson and Garfield, were entered last night and thoroughly ransacked by what appears to have been young fellows who were novices at the house-breaking game. Little damage was done to the buildings and nothing has been missed except a few cents in the desks of several of the teachers.

The buildings were entered by prying open the windows with a jimmy. The High School was entered through a window in the manual training room just north of the main entrance. Evidently the thieves thought that the proceeds of the ward school entertainment in the assembly last night might be available for the door into Superintendent W. M. Westbrook's office was pried open.

Here a safe was encountered, however, and the novices were evidently not combination experts or nitroglycerine "blowers" for the proceeds, about $70, were not secured. Then it was that the ransacking began. Every teacher's and pupil's desk in the building was thoroughly gone through and all the little boxes and corners of the drawers examined.

A gold pen-knife was taken from the desk of Miss Virginia Robertson and most of the other teachers missed small amounts of money which they had left in the desks. In the domestic science room, a stop evidently was made for "midnight lunch" from the stores of the department, as is shown by the rubbish this morning.

Either having a taste of vandalism and liking it, or thinking that the money from the ward school entertainment might have been taken by one of the ward school teachers, the marauders then went to the Jefferson and Garfield schools. Besides the breaking of a few blocks on windows and doors the damage was very slight.

The tracks were too hopelessly covered by the school children before the bloodhounds could be secured. No clue has been found by the sheriff and marshal yet, but it is possible that some of the materials taken may prove an identification.

The entertainment last night which probably caused the raid was enjoyed by a large crowd in the high school assembly. All of the pupils in the patriotic program did well.

PICKERING DEBATE FRIDAY

"Country Life vs. City Life," by O. G. Nail and R. E. Lewis vs. Earl Richards and Alva Burch.

"Resolved, that country life offers more opportunities for the young man's welfare than city life" is the first question to be debated by the Pickering Debating society Friday night at the school house.

O. G. Nail and R. E. Lewis will take the affirmative and Earl Richards and Alva Burch will uphold the negative. Both of the negative are school teachers. A community paper and other features of a literary program will be given. The meetings of the club will be held at the school house every Friday night.

Prof. Albert Harris was in Maryville last night, as the Pickering school enjoyed a Washington's birthday holiday.

For Carrying Concealed Weapons, Samuel Broyles of Hopkins was arraigned this morning on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He waived preliminary hearing and his bond for appearance at the April term of circuit court was set at $300.

DEBATE "NO DECISION BOUT"

Men's Brotherhood of Presbyterian Church Enjoys Preparedness Discussion at Banquet.

The preparedness debate at the banquet of the Presbyterian church last night was a "No-decision bout." The ladies aid of the church served the dinner for the men of the brotherhood. The waiters were dressed in colonial costume and patriotic decorations were used in the room.

Mrs. W. M. Case sang, "Just Before the Battle, Mother," previous to the debate upon national defense. Ed. Brewer was unable to attend so the Rev. C. Emerson Miller was given fifteen minutes more time. "Much to my discomfiture," adds the Rev. William Moll Case who was against preparedness.

THORNHILL IN RACE

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR MAYOR BY FORMER JUDGE.

FORMER COUNCIL MEMBER

Was Chairman of Street Committee Which Started Paving—Presided Over County Court 1911-1915.

John G. Thornhill announced his candidacy for the office of mayor of Maryville this morning. Mr. Thornhill is a former member of the council and was presiding judge of the Nodaway county court from 1910 to 1914.

When seen this morning, Mr. Thornhill said that he had no definite statement to make at this time. "I am not entering this race from any pressure or urging from friends," he said. "I am announcing for mayor of Maryville because I want the job."

Mr. Thornhill has lived in Maryville for nineteen years, moving here from his farm near this city. He was a member of the board of aldermen for several terms and was head of the street committee of the council when the first paving was done in Maryville, practically having charge of the work.

He was elected presiding judge of the county court in 1910 and served for the four-year term.

JEFF COLVIN OF ELMO DIED

Paralysis Several Weeks Ago, Followed by Hemorrhage, Fatal to 54-Year-Old Man Last Night.

Mr. Colvin was 54 years old. He was born and reared near Elmo, and not far from the large farm which he owned and upon which he lived until he was removed to Elmo during his last illness.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Harriet Colvin of South Omaha, Neb., two brothers and a sister. They are: L. P. Colvin of Maryville, John Colvin and Mrs. Mary Alines both of South Omaha. The mother was unable to attend the funeral services, but the brothers and sisters were with him at the time of his death.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock at the South Methodist church at Elmo. The burial will be at the Six Corner cemetery, near Elmo.

TIME FOR TRIMMING

TARKIO COMES TONIGHT FOR M. H. S. GAME.

MOUND CITY CHALLENGED

Players Reiterate Assertions of Poor Refereeing—Other High School Notes.

Those in Maryville who like to see a real basketball game will be at the Normal gymnasium tonight to see Maryville high school and Tarkio high school mix in one of the big clashes of the year. Maryville lost to Tarkio on the opponent's court by a top-heavy score, and they believe that they are going to come back.

It seems certain that Nixon will start the game at center, with Tilson and Hughes at guards. The forwards are not determined yet, but will be among Crawford, Van Cleave, Flemming and Egley. Crawford has been sick and the "star" forward of the last several games may be unable to play long. "Slats" Sealeman is still in bed with pneumonia in a light form. He is recovering gradually and has hopes of being able to leave his bed next Sunday. Travis, star center for Tarkio, was ill last week and it was fortunate for them that the high water prevented them from coming at that time. Robinson and Logan will be the visitors' forwards, and Whitnell and Low the guards.

Fleming will be playing his last game for Maryville, as his father, G. E. Flemming, and family will move next week to Rocky Port, Wyoming. Maryville will not play St. Joseph Benton Friday night, as the original schedule called for, but will play them there March 19. The new gymnasium there will be completed by that time.

Respects to Mound City.

The players and coach have been paying their respects to the Mound City team, referee and coach since the arrival of the Mound City papers. The contention seems to hinge around the refereeing of one Fred Burks. Neither side doubts the integrity of the Mound City druggist, but it is his knowledge of the rules and ability to handle a game which is in question.

The Mound City News-Jeffersonian infers that The Democrat-Forum was guessing as to the Maryville men being dissatisfied with the game there, and says that the coach and players of M. H. S. expressed themselves as well pleased after the game. Both the players and coach deny this, and state that the report of The Democrat-Forum by long distance was correct in every way.

The Maryville Tribune is quoted with reference to the game here as showing that the team was satisfied with Mr. Burks when he refereed here, but that paper was in error in the most important particular of saying that Burks refereed the first half of the game. He officiated in the second half instead; and numerous instances of his unfamiliarity with the rules can be given. Once he turned directly to Mr. Lichtenberger, who was umpiring, and asked for information on a point. At another time he made a ruling on a jump at center and retracted it when called in question by Lichtenberger.

Tarkio Objected Also.

At the Mound City game he entered the court with a stiff collar and bow tie on, and repeatedly called the plays from the opposite end of the field, not following the ball. He has been objected to by teams all over northwest Missouri. The Maryville high school has the correspondence of Tarkio high school in which the local school demanded the usual right to select the referee. Tarkio objected. We let Mound City do that and got a "pill," was the answer.

But the most unfair reference of all in the Mound City papers was that Maryville was using sickness as an excuse. Now the best point getters on the team, Sealeman, center, and Crawford, forward, have been very ill. "Slats" has pneumonia and Crawford has had the grip, which is as bad as the other, almost.

The M. H. S. boys and coach say that they do not want to crab over a defeat and are not in that spirit, but that they do feel like issuing this challenge. Either to meet Mound City in one game on a St. Joseph court with a Kansas City referee or to play a three-cornered tournament with Tarkio, Mound City and Maryville on neutral courts with competent officials, or to enter an open tournament for all the teams in northwest Missouri who want to get in it, Mound City not to Jeop-

WILSON TO BROOK NO INTERFERENCE

PRESIDENT SAYS INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS TOO SERIOUS.

CONGRESS' CRITICISM HAS ADVERSE EFFECT

Immediate Showdown on Submarine Issue to Be Forced by State Department.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson has served warning on congress he will not tolerate any interference at this time with the international relations of the United States.

The situation, so far as the administration is concerned, it is learned from absolutely authoritative sources is that any agitation of congress which would be constructed as criticism of the state department must inevitably have serious adverse effect among the belligerent European nations.

In conference with Senators Stone and Kern, President Wilson told them he has decided to force an "immediate showdown" with the Teutonic Allies on the general question of submarine warfare.

Alarmed over the strength and insistence of the growing congressional sentiment over the administration's attitude toward submarine warfare, Democratic leaders of the House and Senate are seeking today to arrange a secret conference.

Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, will make an effort at the meeting to be held probably tonight, to get the influential Democratic leaders together in a discussion of the matter.

Whitlock Story Denied.

Reports from London are that Brand Whitlock, minister to Belgium, will return to the United States to accept portfolio as secretary of war. It was denied flatly at the White House.

FRANCIS TO GO TO RUSSIA

St. Louis Democrat, Former Candidate for Senator, Accepts Ambassadorship.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Feb. 23.—David R. Francis, secretary of the Interior in Cleveland's cabinet and ex-governor of Missouri, told President Wilson today he would accept the post of ambassador to Russia to succeed George T. Marye, who has resigned. His commission will be sent to the senate as soon as inquiry can be made of the Russian government as to whether he is acceptable.

Mr. Francis called on the President today with Senator Reed of Missouri. The President and Secretary Lansing attach unusual importance to the embassy at Petrograd at present because of questions growing out of the European war, and the problem of inspecting the large detention camps in Russia in which are held thousands of German and Austro-Hungarian prisoners.

Mr. Francis was offered the post of ambassador to Argentina early in the present administration, but declined because of the press of personal business.

Cream Cake

Inquiries among a large number of women using "The Cook's Book" showed this to be their favorite cake recipe. It is easy to make, certain to turn out well if K C Baking Powder is used, and may be put together with almost any filling or icing.

K C Cream Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

One-half cup butter; 1 cup sugar; yolks of 2 eggs, beaten light; 1 1/2 cups sifted flour; 2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1 cup cold water; whites of 2 eggs, beaten dry.

Cream the butter; add the sugar, yolks of eggs and water; then the flour, sifted three times with the baking powder, lastly the whites of eggs. Bake in two or three layers; put these together with cream filling, and dredge the top with confectioner's sugar.

Cream Filling

One-fourth cup sifted flour; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 cup hot milk; 1 egg, beaten light; 1 cup sugar; 1 teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1 ounce chocolate.

Mix flour and salt with a very little cold milk; stir into the hot milk and cook ten minutes; add the chocolate and stir until it is melted and evenly blended with the flour mixture, then beat in the egg mixed with the sugar, and lastly the vanilla.

You need the K C Cook's Book, containing this and 89 other delicious recipes—sent free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder. Send to the Jaques Mig. Co., Chicago.

Again, what's in a name. That company which was defrauding the former Maryville man was the Square Deal Mining company, and the man who caught them at it was Mr. Benight.

Mrs. Sycke Withe Grippe, suffragette wife of G. Fuller, does not have proper sympathy with boys to make a good home atmosphere, we fear. She sniffed at her husband's mystification over the notches in tops, but said within a few moments that she could not understand to save her life why her son, Fuller D., should insist upon spinning his top on the linoleum in the kitchen and the polished floor of the dining room.

A PALM BEACH GIRL.

Tan colors are taking the lead with many of the spring suits. This trim suit features a tan ribbed serge with a full skirt that has wide, inverted plaits on the hips to give the fullness. The coat has a rippled flare, and the detachable collar is of white faille silk. Ball buttons in a deeper tan give a neat finish, the front being single breasted.

LINEN FROCKS.

Linen frocks for young women have now made their appearance. They are of French or rample linen, quite sturdy as to weave and rather tailorish as to cut. They have boyish pockets and straight skirts, simple blouses with white collars and are rather plain in general, but quite good looking. They come in pretty rose shades, charming blues and brown tans.

THE "WHY" OF THE NEW RULE TIME FOR TRIMMING

Reprinting by The Democrat-Forum of a Booklet Issued by The Kansas City Star, Explaining More Fully What Commission Form of Government for Cities Is and Reasons for It.

The Kansas City Star has prepared a booklet of information about the commission form of government and reasons for its adoption, which will be reproduced in several installments this week. The first follows:

This, the third edition of The Star's booklet on Commission Government, is issued because of the continued demand for information on the subject of modern municipal government. Two former editions of the booklet have been exhausted by requests for copies that have come from every state in the Union.

Effort is made herein to present in the clearest manner possible, the difference between the new rule and the old ward form of government. When The Star issued the first edition of this booklet in 1909, there were but thirteen cities outside of Texas that had adopted the new rule, and six of these were in Kansas and three in Iowa. Now more than three hundred cities have adopted Commission Government in its complete form, or in some modified form, including the City Manager plan in a number of cities.

The Star is reproducing the booklet to meet the demand for a concise statement of this character, but the matter contained herein is only an epitome of articles that have appeared from time to time in The Star during the past six years. It is published in this condensed form merely for the purpose of adding whatever help it may prove to be to the campaign of education which The Star is making every day for good government for the city, the county, the state and the Nation.

(Note:—Where specific provisions of the law are given, they are taken from the Kansas Enabling Act.)

Commission Government is the application of modern business methods to the conduct of municipal affairs. It concentrates responsibility in the city government and exacts accountability from those elected to administer the public business, thereby making efficiency the principal requirement in civic rule.

It abolishes the old Ward representation plan which provides for a Mayor and one or two Aldermen from each Ward, and substitutes therefor a Mayor and a board of Commissioners elected by all the people.

Under Commission Government the business of the city is divided into general departments, and each Commissioner is specifically responsible for the work of one department, subject to the general supervision of the entire Commission.

Under the old Ward plan there is no specific responsibility on the part of any member of the Council for any particular branch of the city's business.

Under the new rule the Mayor and Commissioners are elected without reference to political alignment or factional divisions.

Under the old rule the Mayor and Councilmen are elected as representatives of a political party, or as representatives some particular faction among the citizens.

Commission Government establishes a standard in municipal affairs. It requires the Commissioners to do certain things or forfeit their office.

Ward Government requires nothing in particular, establishes no order of procedure and exacts no accountability for failure to do what the people demand.

Commission Government requires that one Commissioner shall be responsible for enforcing the laws and maintaining an efficient fire department; of another Commissioner that he keep the streets clean and in good repair; of another that he collect the taxes and supervise the revenues, etc. If there is failure in any department the Commissioner responsible for that department cannot say that it was occasioned because the other Commissioners were negligent in their departments, or that he was forced to employ incompetent assistants. Neither can he offer any of the excuses so common under the old regime. That department is under his exclusive management; the authority to employ competent help or to discharge incompetent help is his. If there is failure the failure is his, and every citizen of the municipality knows where to place the blame.

Ward Government provides that "The Mayor and Council" shall perform the general services mentioned in the Statutes. Nowhere is there provision for individual obligation. The enforcement of the law rests with "The Mayor and Council;" the streets are in charge of "The Mayor and Council;" the collection of taxes and the supervision of revenues are entrusted to "The Mayor and Council." The best and most capable man in the Council can render no greater service to the city than the most incompetent, because there is no provision made for the capable man to do more than the incompetent will permit him to do. And where there is failure no citizen of the municipality is able to place the blame anywhere except upon "The Mayor and Council."

Substitutes Efficiency for Red Tape. The Commission plan compels the Mayor and Commissioners to devote their entire time to the public service—a government at work every day in the year. If an emergency arises the municipality can meet it; if there is a complaint on the part of a citizen anywhere it can be answered and corrected THE SAME DAY; if there is a street to repair; a defective catch basin that overflows; a sidewalk to mend—a telephone call to the city hall is all that is necessary to bring the workman AT ONCE to remedy the complaint.

Under the old Ward plan the Council meets perhaps once each week—AT NIGHT. The municipal government is actually at work two or three hours every seven days. If a citizen has a complaint about a street, for instance, he must visit the Council at night; his complaint is referred to a committee; the committee meets in another week and refers the complaint to the superintendent of streets, who refers it to a foreman, who takes his time to investigate the trouble and refers it back to the Street Superintendent. The Superintendent refers it back to the Council Committee and the Council Committee refers it back to the Council, where it goes over under the head of "Unfinished Business" for another meeting.

The contrasts afforded in the foregoing provisions of the Ward representation plan and the Commission Form of Government fairly illustrate the distinction between the old rule and the new, and clearly shows the advantages of Commission rule over the present system of Ward Government.

Musty Now, but Woman Has Kept Brother's Gift Many Years.

Litchfield, Minn.—A piece of musty hardtack carried in a knapsack by her brother, Enoch Leavitt, when he marched under Colonel Buford against the famous Morgan raiders is a memento of the civil war possessed by Mrs. James Lowater.

Following Morgan's capture Mrs. Lowater's brother was granted a furlough and brought the ancient piece of army bread home to his sister. She has had it now for fifty years. Though it is a little green from age, it is still in a fairly good state of preservation. Mrs. Lowater is one of the pioneers of this part of the country.

WANTED GREEN IN SHIRT.

Wrecked Store Because Clerk Showed One With Orange Stripes.

Pittsburgh.—"Lemme see something nifty in shirts—something with a classy green stripe," said Dan McKee of Soho street, as he went into the men's furnishing store of Emil de Santis, in Webster avenue. The lone clerk evidently did not notice all the specifications of McKee's order and listlessly drew out at random the first box of shirts his hand touched. Picking the top shirt out, he laid it before McKee.

"There's something nice," he began. "Oh, is it?" yelled McKee.

Things happened in rapid succession for a few minutes, during which the clerk ran for a policeman. A showcase was smashed and haberdashery strewn about the floor.

"McKee," asked Magistrate Sweeney at the hearing next morning, "what on earth made you try to wreck that store?"

"I asked for a green striped shirt, judge."

"Well?"

"And that fellow handed me a bright orange one."

"I see," said Sweeney. "But I'll have to make it thirty days."

SAVES RARE OLD VIOLIN.

Girl Digs Relic From a Trunk as the House Burns.

Tacoma, Wash.—A rare old violin valued at $700 and owned by Miss Marlain Beecher of Puyallup was all that was saved when the little house adjoining the home of John S. Ellegood on South hill burned to the ground. As Miss Beecher opened the door to enter her room she was met by a cloud of smoke. Her first thought was of the old violin, stored in a small iron trunk, which had been given to her by her father and which was prized as an heirloom of the family.

Rushing into the smoke, she grabbed the trunk, but found it was too heavy to drag out. She lifted the lid, however, took out the violin and carried it to safety.

FLASHY GARB BRINGS $400,000 TO YOUTH

Sartorial Splendor of Missing Heir Causes Arrest.

Chicago.—Keith Edward Dalrymple wore flashy clothing and for this reason was taken to the police station by detectives. Had it not been for his flashy clothes Dalrymple would not have known that he was heir to $400,000 and that the police of the country had been on the lookout for him for four years to tell him so.

The bureau of identification gave up nothing of a damaging character with reference to the young man—he is twenty-three years old—but it did develop an old circular seeking him.

Dalrymple ran away from his home at Silem Springs, Ark., in 1908. His father prospered in the oil business and moved to Port Allegeny, Pa., where he died four years ago.

After leaving home Dalrymple went to New York, where he worked in department stores. Later he worked at Buffalo and Detroit. He was in Chicago only ten days ago.

There was no charge against Dalrymple. He was taken into custody, like many others recently, as a detail of dragnet operations against persons whose standing in the community is not clear to the police. Dalrymple was in the barroom of a first class hotel when his sartorial equipment aroused the curiosity of the detectives.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

In a campaign against women wearing their hats in churches, the Rev. SULLINGER LETTER

H. MARTIN WILLIAMS WRITES ON SINGLE TAX.

IS FORMER MISSOURIAN

Is Now A Reading Clerk of House of Representatives—Explains Position of His Fellow Taxers.

Washington, D. C. February 14, 1916.
My Dear Judge Sullinger:—In the issue of the King City Chronicle of February 5th, last, I find the following letter written by you.

King City, Missouri, Jan. 5th, 1916.
Mr. L. T. Moulton, Ed.,
King City, Missouri.

Dear Sir: Recently the public press contained notice of the indictment of Congressman Buchanan of Illinois, with others, for fermenting strikes in the munition factories of the United States. I desire to call your attention to the fact that this is the same Congressman Buchanan, who, three years ago put into the Congressional Record all of the literature, principles and arguments in favor of the single tax proposition, hundreds of thousands of copies of which were mailed out under his frank, free of postage, in an attempt to fasten the unfair, unjust and un-American principle of single tax on the people of Missouri. It was this man's effort, in the most unfair way taking advantage of the frank of a congressman, to promulgate the principle of single tax at the expense of the National government. And I know that you, as did thousands of stalwart Missourians, contribute your time and money to overcome this unfair attack.

Our friends who opposed the single tax heresy will now have an opportunity of learning something more about Congressman Buchanan who stands charged by the Federal authorities.

Respectfully,

J. W. SULLINGER.

Your attack on Hon. Frank Buchanan, member of Congress from the 7th Illinois District, is so manifestly unfair that I feel impelled to give the actual facts concerning his connection with the distribution of the single tax literature referred to in your paper.

In the first place let me say that Mr. Buchanan occupies a high place in the esteem and regard of his fellow congressmen. His courage, personal integrity and sincerity of purpose are conceded by all who know him. The head and front of his offending in your eyes, is the fact that a congressional document containing the speeches made by him and Congressman R. P. Bulkeley of Ohio, was sent to the voters of Missouri during the campaign for the so-called single tax amendment to the constitution of your state, under his frank.

Even at this late day it may serve to enlighten you and all who are interested in the matter, to state the facts in connection with the sending out of the document referred to under Mr. Buchanan's frank. The speeches of Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Bulkeley were inserted in the Congressional Record by their under extension of remarks. The Equitable Taxation Committee of Missouri, ordered from the Government printing office through me, and paid for 350,000 copies of the speeches and Mr. Buchanan who was in sympathy with the object of the campaign in Missouri kindly gave the use of his frank for their free distribution. The use of his frank for that purpose was a perfectly fair, honest and legal procedure. It was nothing more than is done by members of Congress every day. Anything that appears in the Congressional Record is frankable. So much as to Mr. Buchanan's part in sending out the literature you refer to. Now as to the indictment of Mr. Buchanan "for fermenting (I presume you mean fomenting) strikes in the munition factories of the United States," there is only this to say: No one who knows Mr. Buchanan believes for a single moment that he is guilty of the offense for which he has been indicted, and if the Government should prosecute the case against him he will be completely vindicated. His indictment was a rank conspiracy and was brought about through the testimony of perjured witnesses. I think this disposes of your attack on Mr. Buchanan.

Who Are Single Taxers?

I feel that this letter would not be complete if I did not acquaint you and those who may read this letter with a few facts concerning the progress of the single tax and the personnel of a few of the people who believe in it. The single tax which you characterize "as unfair, unjust and un-American," is making converts not only in the United States but throughout the world, more rapidly than at any time since Henry George gave to the world his great book, "Progress and Poverty." The single tax has among its advocates thousands of the foremost thinkers and scholars of this and other countries; men and women of all professions, businesses and trades. At least six United States Senators and twenty Representatives in this Congress are believers in the single tax. President Wilson has seemingly been quite partial to single taxers in making his appointments. His Secretary of the Interior; Assistant Secretary of Labor; two District Commissioners; one Judge of the District Supreme Court; Solicitor General of the United States; Assistant Attorney General; Director of the Reclamation Service; the Chief Counsel, and Controller of the Reclamation Service; the Surgeon General of the United States Army; our Ministers to Belgium and Holland; to say nothing of scores of other Presidential appointees, are single taxers.

I feel sure that if you and all who are opposed to the single tax will give it a candid and impartial investigation, you will come to the conclusion that I came to thirty-five years ago that it is the one great economic, moral and industrial reform that will bring about social and industrial justice, and abolish every form of special privilege.

Trusting that you may give such consideration to this great question as it deserves, I am

Very sincerely yours,

H. MARTIN WILLIAMS.

What Others Believe

"QUEER MR. FORD!"

The Northwestern Christian Advocate says: "We have had our fun, cartoonists have thrived, jokesmiths have hammered out their jibney witticisms, and the public have held their sides in merriment. Now let us wipe the tears from our eyes and see who this man is who has convulsed us to the point of frenzy."

Then the Northwestern calls attention to several particulars in which Mr. Ford is so "queer." As we read, it makes us wish that more people had these points of queerness.

Let us see. Although a millionaire, Mr. Ford's head has not been turned by sudden wealth. He is no "high flyer." He and his family live the simple life.

He has a very "queer" heart. In addition to voluntarily increasing the pay roll of his workmen millions of dollars, he has actually promised that pardoned prisoners may always find a job at his factory.

It is said that he has a "queer" love for animals and that he spends much money annually in protecting birds and befriending dumb animals.

Then Mr. Ford loves peace to such an extent that he is willing to give his fortune, if need be, to secure peace among the nations.

"Queer Mr. Ford!" says the Northwestern. "So say we, all of us."—Ex.

Never Again.

Not long ago a congressman sent to a constituent some horticultural seeds ranging in variety from flowers to vegetables. At their first subsequent meeting the recipient remarked: "I had a narrow escape with those pesky seeds. It was my fault, but I could not resist a chance to play a practical joke on a friend, a very attractive widow. I changed the envelopes containing the flower seeds and put in the flower envelopes lettuce, radishes and onion seeds, telling her that they were furnished by the agricultural department and were strictly A1. I impressed her with the efforts of the government to supply the best and of the vast sums expended for that purpose until she was persuaded to give them special attention. I was then called away from town and did not see her for six weeks. Returning, I called on the lady and casually inquired about the seeds.

"She answered, 'To tell you the truth, I haven't been out to the cemetery since they were planted. You said they were so fine that I concluded to plant them on my husband's grave.'

"I made a quick getaway and meandered to the cemetery, where I found a fresh crop of onions, lettuce and radishes growing upon the grave. I pulled them up, and you bet I've sworn off joking widows with substitute flower seeds."—Boston Herald.

SIX FEET OF TONSILITIS

Poor Giraffe Has Four Pounds of Vaseline on Broom-Stick Swab and Four Rods of Flannel.

Wild animals in captivity, even the more robust species, are difficult to keep in health, and the more tender kinds are often ailing. Doctor and dentist are in frequent requisition. Occasionally stories reach the public ear of the methods of the animal doctors and the behavior of their patients, but usually the privacy of the sick room is respected, even in a menagerie.

Giraffes are among the most delicate of wild creatures exhibited. They seem to have, in the old phrase, "no constitution," and with their big, appealing eyes and attenuated frames, they look the pathetic invalid even when they are well. Jack, the prize giraffe of the Bronx Zoo in New York, was the subject of a case of "six-foot tonsillitis," and the reporters kept the public unusually well informed of his condition and progress. "Patient resting easily"—so ran a bulletin in the daily papers. "Inflammation has disappeared from three and one-half feet of the neck. Light nourishment of one-half bale of hay and bucket of water every hour prescribed today. Temperature normal, respiration normal, pulse good."

"As Jack had an unobstructed view of a celebration on the Hudson river," his friends the reporters further explained, "he stayed out in the wet a little longer than he should have done. It took some time for his malady to spread, however. Dr. Blair administered four pounds of vaseline on the end of a broomstick swab. Then he wrapped Jack's neck up in a few rods of flannel and waited for results. Jack's condition has improved so much that it is thought he will be up within a short time."

ONLY 3,000 RETURNS MADE

Heavy Additional Assessment and Prosecution for Income Tax Failures to Collectors.

Out of fifteen thousand income tax returns, individual and corporation, in this District, Collector E. M. Harbor, reports only about three thousand have up to this time been made. All these must be received at the office in Kansas City by March 1st.

Persons or corporations, failing to make returns by this time, are subject to heavy additional assessments and prosecution as well. All corporations, including mutual telephone companies, are required to make returns and all individuals having net income of three thousand dollars, or over, whether married or single, are required to make returns, and this is true whether blanks are received for such returns or not. Blanks, however, will be furnished on request to Collector Harbor. It is said that the Government is making special effort to see that all who should make returns so do.

If delay is had until near the first of March, by a great number, to make such returns, it will be impossible to accommodate them within time limited. Collector Harbor is anxious all should avoid penalties or prosecutions, and hence advises early and correct returns be made.

Mrs. S. K. Chappell went to Pickering yesterday, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Henry Hinton, several days.

OLD NEWFOUNDLAND NAMES

Geography Ought Not to Be Hard for Boy There for Names Are Kind That "Stick."

Geography should come easily to the Newfoundland schoolboy, for most names of places in Newfoundland and Labrador are of a kind to stay in the memory. "Drawback Tickle," "Splitting Knife," and "Cut Throat" are found close together. Not far off are two particularly bleak and dreary islands known as "Spirit Island" and "Emmanuel's Land." "Paradise" is a favorite name. A little place in Bonavista Bay bears the curious title of "Wet and Weary."

Many very odd names come from fancied resemblances. Among these are "Ironskull Hill," "Hare's Ears Point," "Ragged Islands," "Thimble Tickle," "Oarblade Point," and "Butter Pot." Others, such as "Ireland's Eye," "Jersey Harbor," "Spanish Room," "Frenchman's Cave," show traces of different nationalities that settled on the coast. "Push Through" is situated near a very narrow passage of water through which fishing boats must push their way. "Nipper's Harbor" is so called from the Newfoundland word for mosquito. "Seldom Come By" receives its title from the fact that schooners bound south from the Labrador "seldom come by" its excellent harbor.—Exchange.

If Your Baby Has Croupy Cold Joplin Mothers Can Advise You

They Recommend the "Outside" Application of Vap-O-Rub Instead of Harmful Internal Dosing.

Intelligent mothers everywhere realize that little children should be dosed sparingly, and yet some treatment for cold troubles is necessary. Joplin, Mo., mothers have solved this problem by the use of Vap-O-Rub. This is the "external" Southern treatment introduced here last winter. Applied at night over the throat and chest, the heat of the body releases the ingredients in the form of vapors, and thus the medication is inhaled with each breath through the air passages to the lungs. Vap-O-Rub gives quicker relief than internal medicines, and can be used freely with perfect safety on the smallest child.

JUST SUPPOSE 60 YEARS AGO

Anyone Attempting to Prophecy How We Live Now Would Have Been Sent to Asylum.

Suppose 60 years ago some wiseacre had announced that he had discovered a method of extracting electricity from the air, whereby cities would be illuminated at night as light as at noonday, and power would be furnished to run the most ponderous machinery; what would you have said?

Suppose he had farther informed you that the same agency you would be enabled to converse over a wire with people hundreds of miles away, recognizing their voices; what sort of a 33d degree idiot would you have decided he was?

Suppose you had been informed about that time that a machine had been invented into which a talker could talk, or a singer could sing, which would ever afterward, when wound up, reproduce the talk or the song; wouldn't you have notified the probate judge that a lunatic was at large in the community?

Suppose that one of these individuals or some one else as crazy, had told you that an apparatus had been constructed whereby messages could be transmitted thru the air without the agency of wires or other visible conductors; would you have for a moment credited the story?

Suppose some scientist or mechanical genius had imported the information (?) that a flying machine had been constructed by means of which people could sail thru the air, at a speed of 60 to 80 miles an hour, carrying people, bombs, guns, and other war material that is so decried by peace at any price, people; wouldn't you sarcastically have asked him if his name might be Darius Green?

Suppose some morning you had opened your daily paper, and had read an account of a war ship called a submarine, diving down into the depths and firing a torpedo thru the hull of a hostile vessel, sinking it in the space of a few minutes; would you not have thrown the paper down with the remark, "what liars these newspapers are getting to be?"—Hutton Record.

HURRAH FOR CITY

AMERICAN ISSUE COMPLIMENTS MARYVILLE ON VICTORY.

REMARKABLE SENTIMENT

Official Organ of Anti-Saloon League Says Vote is Great Encouragement.

The following account of the election in Maryville is taken from the American Issue, official organ of the Anti-Saloon League:

If ever a town can be satisfied with saloons, such should have been the case with Maryville, Mo. A city of 5,000 people, it had only two "drink parlors," each of which paid an annual license fee of $5,200, and was run as strictly in accordance with law as is possible for any dramshop.

Every morning at 5 these were opened under supervision of the police, and at night when 10 o'clock came around, an officer again appeared to ring a bell signifying that sales must cease and lights be extinguished. No bartender dared sell to one who staggered, for fear the fellow might wobble on the street, in which case the saloon would surely be called to account for selling liquor to an intoxicated man. One saloon keeper kept a sign posted behind his bar which read, "If your family needs your money do not spend it here," while on the front windows was another, "No students or minors allowed inside." Nor were the saloons in prominent places, both being virtually out of the business part, on an almost vacant block, and one in a hollow on a side street.

But Maryville was not satisfied. It wanted to be dry. In 1907 it had a local option election and went wet by 199. Then in 1912 it tried again to oust the saloons but lost by a wet majority of 55 votes.

During the past four years nearly every move in the city had reference to the next local option election. A mayor and council were chosen favorable thereto. Revivals were held that poured deeply into the wet social subsoil.

As the time drew near when an election could be legally called, the dry forces began talking of the victory they were going to get. When a wet orator came to town with an attractive singer hired a theater and sought to harangue the citizens in behalf of John Barleycorn, the people so resented this intrusion that few ventured to attend. The wet propaganda died of starvation.

Revival meetings were inaugurated to arouse the civic conscience and incite reformed men to renewed efforts in behalf of old confederates in drink. The social impulses of people were appealed to through banquets, and toasts to a dry Maryville. Facts from other dry cities were gathered and put before the people. The city also was divided into blocks and apportioned out to the churches, which, through committees, combed each one thoroughly for voters, in the interests of an honest election and a dry victory. The election was prayed over as much as if it had been a Billy Sunday religious movement.

In fact, the churches took it to their heart as they did their own specific religious activities.

As election day drew near the more sanguine dry workers said they were looking for a majority of 300, while many thought 100 dry majority would be all they could muster.

The returns, however, surpassed all expectations—the dries having polled 894 votes to 192 for the wets, thus securing a majority against license of 702. The election, therefore, was not one of conquest, but extermination. The liquor traffic in Maryville is dead. This victory also will be a great boon to northwest Missouri, inasmuch as it cleans up the only distributing point for wet goods within a radius of fifty miles.

Other wet towns looking forward to a tussle with the saloon should derive encouragement from Maryville's history. Nine years ago the liquor crowd were in the saddle there. They ran the city, overawed business men and even had a voice in church affairs. Still a few brave souls said "Let's fight for a saloonless town." Beaten, these heroic spirits did not give up. In four years they were up and at it again with increased support. Again defeated, they said, "Once more and the town is ours." In this attitude of mind they fought the saloons in the courts, drove them into less desirable quarters—developed sentiment against them, came again to the bat and struck a home run.

Hurrah for Maryville!

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet—yet—really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

ALLEGORY OF BUG SMEET

INSECTS' CONVENTION ELECTS HESSIAN FLY PRESIDENT.

Preparedness Committee Told Others No Use to Combat Spray-Using Farmers.

In a bush-and-weed-covered ravine, near an unsprayed, unpruned and neglected orchard, the annual field and orchard insect congress of Missouri was held recently.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Hessian Fly; vice president, San Jose Scale; secretary-treasurer, Chinch Bug. Other delegates were: Army Worm, Cut Worm, Corn-Ear Worm, Coddling Moth, Curculio, Fruit Tree Borer and Bark Beetle. At the close of the meeting resolutions were adopted declaring that field and orchard insects in Missouri are capable of doing $15,000,000 damage to Missouri crops this year. Each delegate promised to return to his own field and begin his work of cutting down the farmers' profits.

It was admitted by the committee on preparedness, headed by Hessian Fly, that if the farmers of the state who attended the recent annual farmers' week at Columbia made use of their knowledge to combat the pests, the insects could have little effect on the orchards and fields.

The committee recommended that destructive operations be carried on in places where farmers had become discouraged because their sprays, made of strong lime-sulphur and miscible oils, had been used with little or no effect. San Jose Scale, however, admitted that his tribe could accomplish nothing where farmers used sprays at their proper strength and did their work thoroughly.

Farmers who hold to the theory that "We have always had insects; they will always be here; there is no use trying to fight them; just depend upon the weather and the Lord" were especially commended by the insect convention. The bugs admit that, with the farmer who takes his work seriously and who is determined to win, their chances for destruction of crops are very small.—University Missourian.

WRITES RURALIST LETTER

Kerry Lester Shell of Hopkins Says Boys Are Ambitious to Do Men's Work on the Farm.

The following letter was in the Missouri Ruralist of last week's issue, written by Kerry Lester Shell of Hopkins:

I have noticed that many times the younger boys on the farm are not trusted as they should be. Boys always want to do things that men do. Most of them are ambitious beyond their years. It always discourages a boy to tell him that he is not old enough to do certain things. He dislikes to hear his father say, "I never did things like that when I was a boy." The boy goes away feeling discouraged and saying to himself, "I know I could do that if he would give me a chance."

The energetic farmer boy loved to do things that no one thought he could do. He likes to surprise his parents. His ambition should not be killed by "you can't do that; you are not old enough." If the parents feel sure that their boy should not undertake something beyond his years or strength they should be taught that no worth while undertaking is beyond them. Keep the "can't's" out of their lives.

Colonial Party.

Seniors Entertain Last Night.

One of the most important and beautiful social events was the colonial party last night, when the seniors entertained the faculty, the wives of the men and the juniors of the State Normal school, in the library of the main building. The library was artistically decorated with groups of flags and potted plants.

The guests, who were dressed in colonial costumes were received by young women dressed to represent different periods of days gone by. The seats were arranged around the walls and a sight most beautiful greeted the eyes of stately matrons, gallant men, with handsome suits of silk brocades and velvets with knee trousers. We did not know men could be so greatly improved by frills and fancies. Neither could it be conceived that white hair and quaint costumes could be so becoming to the ladies. The south wing of the library was curtained off for those who took part on the program.

The features of the entertainment were the dances by groups who represented different periods from 1776 to 1916, and the jitney elopement of George and Martha Washington in 1920. The music was furnished by the State Normal school orchestra.

While every group deserves special mention the "Jitney Elopement" was the scream of the evening. Verne Picken was the chauffeur, and his car, which was something entirely new and unique in motordom, was very handsomely constructed of four chairs, two oil cans for radiators, a small pine box for the hood and a piano stool for the steering wheel. His motor logs consisted of a white cap, a huge cigaret and a tough expression, besides his regulation suit. Joe Lukens was George Washington and Miss Wallace was Martha, and were duly excited. After many mishaps to them they arrived at the minister's, where they were married, but the minister, Prof. Harry Miller, did not kiss the bride. However, his wife, Miss Edna Dietz, was very obliging.

The period of 1776 was represented by Misses Anna Balmum, Nancy Gustin, Mary Lewis, Lola Wright, Vida Hefflin and Laveta Robertson, Messrs. Fred Lewis, Lee Scarlett, Ralph McClintock, Walter Hanson, George Paley and Harold Sawyers.

The 1820 period was represented by Misses Blanche Criswell, Ruth Harrington, Villa Waller, Lula Marshall, Messrs. Warren Breit, Ernest Coler, Virgil Lyle and Harry Clayton.

The 1840 period, by Misses Jeanette Mutz, Virgil Colden, Mary Sewell, Ilene Kemp, Messrs. M. C. Wagers, Lowell Lvengeod, Bruce Wilkerson and Verne Picken.

The 1876 period by Misses Retha Robertson, Muriel Scarborough, Katherine Carpenter, Grace Boggs, Messrs. Claude Martin, Paul Wilson, William Utter and Lloyd Heffner.

The 1916 period was by Misses Marjorie Wilfley and Eleanor Richey, Messrs. Charles McReynolds and Paul Wilson.

After the conclusion of the program an elaborate two-course luncheon was served in the corridor on the second floor. The favors were small hatchets, which were very useful in creating a racket. Just before the guests left the tables all stood and sang the "Star Spangled Banner," and the music echoed and re-echoed throughout the building.

VIVIAN MARTIN AT EMPIRE

"The Little Mademoiselle" is Left in New England Village Unable to Speak or Understand English.

It doesn't take such a vivid imagination to grasp the generalities of the situation which confronts a young French girl suddenly set down in a New England village, when the girl speaks no English and the villagers speak none but their own language. But, to grasp the details and to realize the scores of both pathetic and humorous adventures that beset the girl before she finds some one who can understand her and who can make her understand, one must see the World Film Corporation's feature in which Miss Vivian Martin is starred as Lili Brevail in "The Little Mademoiselle."

"The Little Mademoiselle" will be shown at the Empire theater tonight.

That Lili's rescuer is a young American man, true to type, only adds to the interest of the story, but the fact that he is as badly "broke" as she is when he rescues her, adds more than humor. It furnishes the opportunity for some quaintly amusing situations, such as a charming young actress as Miss Martin, with her delicate bits of almost pathetic comedy and her pure, girlish characterization of the part of Lili, carries the interesting story through to a finish that gives a final touch to a true-to-life tale of modern love and adventure.

Special at the Empire theater tonight—Ford Animated Weekly.

Dog Attacks Fur Topped Shoe.

Cleveland, O.—A Cleveland woman was walking down a street, wearing a pair of fur top shoes. A dog saw the fur and made an energetic attack, divesting one of the shoes of its trimming. Perhaps the dog thought he recognized in that fur an old time foe—the neighbor's cat. But if he did women have cause to be thankful, for if cat fur is used to trim women's shoes women may feel sure that mice will keep away.

Sawdust Kills Woman.

Tacoma, Wash.—A mountain of water soaked sawdust released from its position on the top of a hill about one-half mile east of Fairfax crashed down the embankment, tore the strong two-story home of J. H. Skiles to pieces and instantly killed Mrs. Skiles, who was alone in her home.

SAYS HANDCLASP BARES CHARACTER

Head "Greeter" Has "Mitted" Half a Million.

NEARLY TELLS OCCUPATION

Clerk at Minneapolis Hotel Declares Handshake is Considered a Reliable Index to Character by Those in His Line of Business—Defines Grips of Professional Men.

Minneapolis.—When a "feller" shakes hands about 50,000 times a year he ought to develop into a connoisseur, in the opinion of Hector L. Bourgerie, "greeter extraordinary" of the Nicollet hotel, who represented Minneapolis last year at the "greeters'" convention in California.

Hotel men, who have to place much trust in thousands of persons, consider the handshake a reliable index to character, Bourgerie declared.

"We can make a fair guess as to a man's occupation when we clasp his hand," he continued. "The farmer or laborer has callouses on his hand. We cannot mistake him. A fellow with soft hands who says he's a farmer arouses our suspicions."

"We have to distinguish professional men by subtle characteristics in their grips. For example, a pastor is likely to hold your hand as long as you let him. A traveling man usually gives you a hard, quick grip. I should say that this class is one of the most pleasurable and satisfactory. It paves the way for business. A doctor is inclined to advance his fingers to your wrists. You get the idea that he wants to feel your pulse."

"The lawyer is a frequent gripper. He has a tendency to try to as to all the fraternal orders of which he may be a member. He developed the gripping habit at college and has found it a valuable asset in his business, especially if he's a politician. The teacher shakes hands less than other professional men. He does not have to cultivate popular good will. His class is a cross between that of a preacher and a salesman."

Bourgerie extended his hand for inspection. "You will notice that the muscles are exceptionally developed for one who doesn't labor hard."

Bourgerie has a grip like a vise. "When a fellow tries to outgrip me," he boasted, "he usually gets fooled. I put 'venturesome' in my characterization of him. No one has been able to make me wince yet. I have turned the tables on a few who have tried. Ordinarily I am careful not to hurt any one."

"A firm grip may be taken as a mark of sincerity. With your friends it betokens more than a pleasure in seeing you. It indicates honesty and a few other qualifications that society has found indispensable."

Bourgerie expects to shake hands at least a million times in the next decade. He already has shaken 500,000 hands and predicted a future annual average of 50,000.

DANIELS RETURNED HER DIME

Told Little New York Girl People Will Buy Warships With Taxes.

New York.—Thirteen-year-old Marjorie Sterrett's dime will never be used to help build a new battleship for Uncle Sam. Secretary of the Navy Daniels returned to her the 10 cents in stamps to start a patriotic movement all over the country for a public fund to buy a battleship.

With it went a letter from the secretary, in which he said:

"Your patriotic action is indeed commendable, and I congratulate you on the motive which prompted your action, but I am returning the stamps herewith. The revenue required for such naval construction as the representatives of the people believe to be justified and necessary will be obtained by taxation in the usual manner, and I believe that every American like yourself will gladly submit to the taxation which his spokesman sees fit to impose and will thereby make unnecessary individual contribution."

Believe me, with very best wishes, cordially yours. JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

WOLVES SUFFER HEAVILY.

Minnesota Farmers Busy Slaughtering Animals in Snow.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Men and boys who fly over the snow with the speed of birds are carrying terror and death to the wolves of northern Minnesota, according to a letter received here by Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, from C. A. Saunders, a state warden at Badger, in Roseau county.

No wolf can outrun these flying men, for the wolves break through the thin snow crust, while the men, who do their flying on skis, skim the surface easily. Mr. Saunders writes that he has organized four committees for a campaign of wolf extermination and that more than a hundred wolves have fallen, the greatest slaughter of wolves ever known in that section.

She Hid $350 Under Table.
Columbus, Ind.—When Miss Tillie Hill, who had spent her entire life with her uncle, Henry P. Palmer, here, died recently it was thought she had some money saved. Palmer wondered what had become of the money he felt certain she had saved. A man was called in to clean the rooms, and when he turned over a table he found $350 in bills concealed there.

MUST COME HOME SOBER.

Civic League of Goshen Will Prosecute Those Who Go Away to Drink.

Goshen, Ind.—The Civic league of Goshen has given official notice that it will prosecute all persons who go from this saloonless community to Elkhart, ten miles away, become drunk there and ride home on traction cars.

League managers call attention to the law of 1913, under which intoxicated persons on traction or steam cars and in railway stations are guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by heavy fine and jail imprisonment. Late cars on the Chicago, South Bend and Northern Indiana traction line between Elkhart and Goshen have carried many drunken persons since Goshen voted against the saloons. Employees of the traction company are unable to meet the situation, which is serious.

Requests of the Civic league that the offenders be arrested have been ignored by the Elkhart police, members of the league say.

HAS USED TOBACCO 100 YEARS

West Virginia Man, 115, Works Every Day and Goes to Church Sundays.

Charleston, W. Va.—Claiming to be one of the oldest men alive, John Daniel Coleman, senior member of the firm of J. D. Coleman & Son, is still actively engaged in work at the age of 115 years. He is a resident of Victor, Fayette county, and has always lived in the mountains. He says he was born in 1800.

Notwithstanding his advanced age, Mr. Coleman spends most of his weekdays in his store, making sales and buying country produce.

On Sundays he goes to church twice and in the past seven years has missed only one Sunday on account of illness. A clay pipe is his constant companion. He says he has used tobacco since he was fifteen years old.

LOVERS ARE REUNITED AFTER MANY YEARS

Hackettstown (N. J.) Couple Plan to End Days Together.

Hackettstown, N. J.—After a separation of more than thirty-two years Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Johnson are reunited.

On Mrs. Johnson's arrival in Hackettstown from Hoboken she was met at the station by her husband and Miss Mildred Loder, daughter of Thomas Loder, a half brother of Johnson. The greeting between the long parted couple was affectionate. They went to the Johnson home, where Alfred Johnson met them, and then to the Loder residence. The couple received a son and a daughter, who had brought about the reconciliation after weeks of effort.

"Our separation was the folly of young life," said Mrs. Johnson. "We were but children when married. It is our intention to end our days happily together, regretting the years spent apart."

REFUSED OFFICIAL A KISS.

Husband Tells Bride Officiating Magistrate Is Too Old.

St. Louis.—S. L. Moore, an Alton druggist, refused to permit Police Magistrate Maguire to kiss his bride, who was Mrs. Nellie R. Morton, after the magistrate had performed the wedding ceremony.

When the ceremony was concluded the magistrate remarked that the bride had better kiss the bridegroom, and if there were any kisses left one ought to be bestowed on the officiating justice.

When the bride approached the police magistrate the bridegroom pulled her back, saying, "Don't, Nellie; he's too old to be kissed."

Mrs. W. H. Tilson continues to improve today, and strong hopes are now held for her complete recovery.

WANTED ELECTION CALLED OFF.

Petitioners at Clearmont Get "Cold Feet" on Consolidation.

The opposition to the consolidation issue in and around Clearmont has grown so strong that many of the petitioners have requested A. H. Cooper, county superintendent of schools, to recall the election, which will be held February 28. Mr. Cooper is not permitted by law to withhold the election, now that it has been called.

Be sure and hear Mrs. William Moll Case sing at "The Union Depot."

NO COUPONS, NO PREMIUMS.

"But My, What a Cigarette!" They Say of Those Delightful Camels.

In the comparatively brief time Camel Cigarettes have been on the market they have gained remarkable popularity; today, they are smoked in every nook and corner of the nation. They have filled in a need that no other cigarette ever did fill.

Camels are a new idea in cigarettes. They are an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos—and the result is the cleverest cigarette that has ever been put on the market.

You so quickly recognize the quality of the tobaccos and the expert blending in these cigarettes that you do not look for or expect coupons or premiums. And the first few puffs bring to your mind the now famous saying: "No coupons, no premiums, but my, what a cigarette!"

First of all, Camels will not bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how many you smoke. And Camels leave no unpleasant cigarette aftertaste. They are as mild as they are delightful in flavor, yet they have all that desirable "body" which assures satisfaction and cigarette contentment.

Smokers find in Camels a cigarette that meets their best wishes. Camels "stand up" against your taste that is, they never tire it, no matter how liberally you smoke them. They always "have that delicate flavor" that makes them so acceptable any hour of the day; so enticingly good and refreshing, always!
